

Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) index

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development is a universal call for action to address global challenges. At PMI, we are committed to doing our part to make the UN SDGs a reality. In this index, we have mapped our reporting with the SDGs and their respective targets, referencing where supporting information on our contribution can be found. Accounting for the SDGs into our reporting helps bring context to our own sustainability ambitions.

This summary should be read in conjunction with PMI's Integrated Report 2020, and the additional sustainability-related communications available at www.pmi.com/sustainability.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The content of PMI's Integrated Report 2020 content is shaped by a formal sustainability materiality assessment, refreshed in 2019. We have structured our sustainability topics around four strategic pillars of action and two tiers. PMI's Integrated Report 2020 provides information on context, relevance, management approach, targets, and performance for each tier 1 topic. Details about our management and performance on tier 2 topics, as well as case studies that shed light on our work at country level, are available on www.PMI.com/sustainability. In this summary and in related communications, the term "materiality," "material," and similar terms, when used in the context of economic, environmental and social topics, are defined in the referenced sustainability standards, and are not meant to correspond to the concept of materiality under the U.S. securities laws and/or disclosures required by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
